Dedicated to his faith, family, and profession, the D Profile recognizes George Fekaris, Partner of Morello Law Group, P.C. as one of our 2015 Men of Distinction.

Fekaris has been in practice for 25 years and still loves being a lawyer. Since high school, he sought to pursue a career in law. Today he holds a J.D. from the University of Detroit School of Law and a business degree from Michigan State University.

Since obtaining his law degree, Fekaris has contributed to the establishment and growth of a premier law firm. He has fostered a team approach that provides service, value, and the highest level of results to his clients.

“The great success of our law practice, which started so humbly, has paid positive dividends to many aspects of my life to which I am devoted. I find that my legal career and my personal life are mutually supportive,” says Fekaris.

For guidance he looks to lessons from important role models in his life. He credits his parents and maternal grandmother for their examples of hard work, diligence, perseverance, care, and a high value placed on education. As a young lawyer, Fekaris also benefited from his collaboration with more experienced attorneys, who gave him significant autonomy in working with clients and in court matters. “I would not say that I had [only] one professional mentor. For this reason, I am devoted to mentoring the less experienced members of my firm as best as I can,” he says.

Fekaris is married to an attorney and former Riverview native. They live in Northville with their three children. He is actively supportive of his children’s schools and has served for several years as an Officer and Director of the Northville Educational Foundation. He has also volunteered for multiple terms on the parish council of his church and is a past President of the Hellenic Bar Association of Michigan.

Fekaris sees his involvement with his family life and faith as complementary to his professional work as they allow for different forms of growth. He explains, “My favorite experiences are using my talents for the benefit of others, sharing love and life with my family and friends, and growing personally and professionally.” He tries to live by one of his favorite quotes, Matthew 7:12: “So whatever you wish that others would do to you, do also to them, for this is the Law and the Prophets.”
